A01 / DISPLAY RECORD

Last verified object

18:05 | PHOTO

At the Riverside Makers Fair, a brass enamel pin with a tiny white triangle sits on its black display pad inside the booth case.

CASE K-1

Only key K-1 opens the front latch. There is no rear access.

18:06 | KEY DESK

Volunteer Jules signs out K-1, returning it at 18:08. Host Sam does not hold the key in this interval.

DOCUMENT FACSIMILE / DIAGRAMMATIC RECONSTRUCTION

18:05 / PIN IN LOCKED CASE

CASE NOTE The fair has two staff involved, Sam and Jules. No one else was issued K-1.

A02 / LATCH EXPORT

A clock that runs ahead

18:10 | CASE CONTROLLER

Latch OPEN.

18:11 | CASE CONTROLLER

Latch CLOSED.

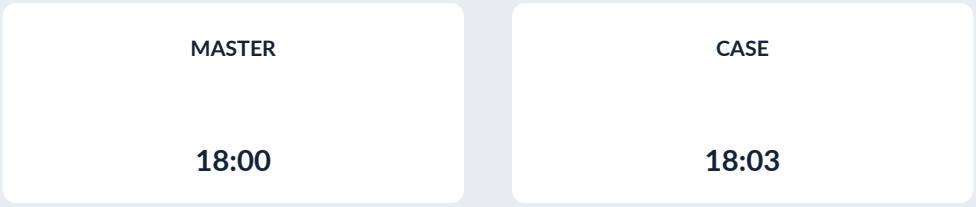

CLOCK CHECK

At precisely 18:00 by the fair master clock, the controller displayed 18:03. Offset stayed constant all evening.

18:12 | MASTER CLOCK

The pin was found missing.

DOCUMENT FACSIMILE / DIAGRAMMATIC RECONSTRUCTION

CASE NOTE Translate the controller times to the actual opening window.

A03 / STAGE MICROPHONE

Sam’s whereabouts

18:06–18:09

Host Sam gives the live welcome announcement on the stage, with the microphone continuously active.

ROUTE

The stage is two minutes from the pin case on foot; the recording has been checked against the fair master clock.

DOCUMENT FACSIMILE / DIAGRAMMATIC RECONSTRUCTION

| CLOCK A | CLOCK B |
| --- | --- |
| ? | ? |

CASE NOTE Compare with the translated case opening window.